INCENDO PICKS UP FOUR CANADIAN SCREEN AWARDS NOMINATIONS

Montreal, February 8th 2019 – Montreal-based Incendo, a Canadian leader in television production and worldwide distribution based in Montreal, is very proud to announce that four of its movies have been recognized by the Academy of Canadian Cinema & Television as nominees at the 2019 Canadian Screen Awards.

Incendo's medical thriller SECOND OPINION is nominated for Best Limited Series or Program; SOMETIMES THE GOOD KILL's director Philippe Gagnon is a finalist in the Best Direction, Drama Program or Limited Series category; SLEEPER's director of photography, Daniel Villeneuve, is recognized in the Best Photography, Drama category; and writer Laurie Finstad Knizhnik is a Best Writing, Drama Program or Limited Series nominee for her work on THE QUEEN OF SIN. All four films were produced by Jean Bureau and Ian Whitehead.

"We are very pleased to see that our television movies are being recognized alongside lengthier and bigger budgeted series and limited series. TV movies are still a powerful storytelling format in an industry where the trend is currently focused on serialized content. I would like to congratulate all the nominees and everyone on our team for this great recognition by the Academy members." says Jean Bureau, President and CEO of Incendo.

Winners will be announced at various events during the Academy's Annual Canadian Screen Week celebrations, which culminate in the Canadian Screen Awards Broadcast Gala in Toronto on March 31st.
